A & E's featured hoarding expert, Cory Chalmers, to conduct a hoarding class at the AACE 2012 Conference.

Cory Chalmers is a featured expert on A & E's, Hoarding Show and has a long history of dealing with the most severe hoarders from across the United States. Cory served as Fire Captain for the Garden Grove Fire Department and is the owner of his own hoarding and crime scene clean up company. Mr. Chalmers is a much sought after instructor and his class promises to bring a new insight into dealing with hoarders and the issues we all face on a daily basis. This class promises to be one of the best hoarding classes you have ever attended.

A favorite instructor "Kelvin Beene" will be back again.

Kelvin is a Code Compliance Supervisor for the City of Fort Worth, Texas and has 20 years of experience in the Code Enforcement and Law Enforcement field. He will be instructing two courses this year, Effective Communication and Case Development. New Code Enforcement Officers will benefit from this course as well as experienced CEO's. How many of us could use a little assistance on Case Development? New CEO's will learn how to develop their case to the fullest. For the experienced CEO's this is a must have refresher course. Both of these classes are sure to be fun and interactive.

First time AACE instructor, Jason Webb

Jason is a Fire Marshal for the City of Belton, Mo. and has been in this field for over 20 years. Jason is in high demand all over the Midwest due to his unique cross-over style of instruction. His unique style makes learning about media and public relations both entertaining as well as educational. This class promises to be beneficial to everyone from entry level to management.
